

Be safe, feel safe

Adults must make sure you feel safe to be yourself!

We must make sure ALL children and young people are included, no matter who you are or where you come from. If you are an Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander child or young person, adults must respect and value your identity and experiences.

To help you be safe and feel safe, we do 10 things:

- 1 We care about keeping you safe and the way we do things shows everyone why this is important.
- 2 We will make sure you know your rights and that you are involved in making decisions that affect you.
- 3 We will tell your family and your community about how we make our services safer for you.
- 4 We treat all kids, teens, young people, families, and people working here fairly and with respect.
- 5 We make sure the adults here are safe, and they know how to help you if there is a problem.
- 6 We make sure everyone knows how to speak up if they are worried about things that people here are doing.
- 7 We know how to keep you safe and well, and we keep learning new things to help us to be safe grown-ups.
- 8 We always look for ways to make sure physical and online spaces where you spend time are safer.
- 9 We check with you that the way we are doing things is working. If not, we will find ways to make you feel safer.
- 10 We write down the ways we keep you safe, in ways that are easy to read and understand.

If we are not doing these things, you can:
